EDUCATIONAL NOTES

MAKING THE INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL MORE EFFICIENT—HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE

By Walt Le Noir Church
When is an Intermediate not an Intermediate?

When is a Grammar School with Intermediate form of management, but without the Intermediate liberty in choice of subjects and courses of study. That is the kind of Intermediate we have in Glendale.

But its efficiency within its possibilities, is beyond question. Practically the only differentiations are in the 7th and 8th grades, where there are but two: the girls allowed to take sewing and cooking; the boys, woodwork.

Aside from that the pupils generally from 11 to 15, are all given the same instruction, regardless of individual capabilities.

They should not be so taught identically the same things. It is an injustice to many pupils; a handicap often not recoverable in future advantages.

The two years in that Intermediate are spent almost wholly on studies under the departmental plan, taught by specialists in history, penmanship, etc. Foreign languages not in that curriculum, which is confined to supposed necessities rather than luxuries.

The primary difficulty is lack of funds. That is caused by an inequity of the school laws which provide that cities of Glendale's class be governed in a certain way; the city and school districts being under different tribunals and not even having the same boundaries. With Alhambra it is different. She has, under special charter, her own city board of education, though her school attendance was last year about 100 less than ours. She can make practically such differentiation in curriculum, and such adaptation of studies to best serve the needs of individual needs of individual students as from time to time appears best. That certainly is one of the higher advantages of advanced educational systems. The way long sought, leading from a more or less blind striving after ancient ideals of group efficiency, to a deeper knowledge and understanding of the secrets of human development and of the laws governing its progress.

In this age of scientific regulation and adjustability to the immutable laws of cause and effect, there must be some available remedy for the injustice thus forced upon quite a number of pupils in Glendale; where the best is never considered too good, when it involves the well-being of our coming citizens on whom the future of Glendale depends. So there is—in fact, there are two practical, available remedies, either of which would suffice.

First: For the Glendale Union High School to take over our so-called Intermediate and make it efficient in ways now lacking.

Second: Organize Glendale under a charter and so differentiate the studies, and their adaptation to special needs of students, that the present difficulty in that regard would be eliminated.

Perhaps results very nearly as good, at least better than any now possible, might be attained by the enactment of three bills now before the California legislature: for the State to pay $20 per unit of average attendance in elementary schools, the county to pay $25, with a district tax for building purposes of 15 cents maximum on $100 of assessed valuation. That would at least remove the burden from the school districts and place it on county and state, where it belongs, giving each child in California practically the same chance for a good education, regardless of the wealth of the district in which it happens to live.

In the last analysis, why are public moneys given for educational purposes?

The basic answer is: To make good citizens.

Then it follows that the public cannot afford to waste any of the material out of which citizens are made, by short-sighted economy in providing means for such making.

Superintendent Keppe said yesterday in his speech at the Pacific Avenue school, before the P.T.A., that the sense of extreme injustice of such unequal educational advantages had made many sufferers therefrom absolutely despise "Old Glory" as the banner of a people who would permit such wrongs. Of course, that is reprehensible. They as voters should go after their legislators to adjust the laws, rather than spurn the flag that means so much of good. But again we are confronted by a condition, not a theory. In that connection, Mr. Keppe said: "Citizenship ought to be taught in the pub-

S. S. CONVENTION

BIBLE SCHOOLS OF GLENDALE-TROPICO DISTRICT HOLD CONFERENCE

The convention of the Sunday Schools of the Glendale-Tropico district opened Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist church in this city, the devotional being led by Rev. Vernon Cowert, pastor of that church. The theme for the day was "Service" and the text: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." An address on the subject "Our District" was given by Rev. E. H. Williford, pastor of the First Congregational church. A vocal selection followed, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," by Mrs. R. D. Jones and Mrs. J. D. Clark of Casa Verdugo. An address on "Service" was given by Rev. Miles B. Fisher of San Francisco, field secretary of the Congregational church. The open discussion was led by Geo. Tyrell, president of the district. A basket lunch was enjoyed at noon, the ladies of the First Baptist church serving coffee, and short musical and literary program was given, consisting of a recitation by Miss Leon Brice, piano and violin duet by Mrs. Richard Berry and Elwood Ingledue, a piano solo by Miss Leon May Brice, a reading by Mrs. Will Knox, a selection by the orchestra of the First Presbyterian church, and the toast: "What plan is best for increasing Sunday School collections," was responded to by the treasurers of the Tropico M. E., the Eagle Rock Presbyterian and the Burbank Baptist church.

In the afternoon the song service was led by C. H. Cunningham, who also gave a solo. A. A. House, district vice-president, presided and the committees' and secretary's reports were read and the voluntary pledges for 1917 made by the different schools of the district given. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: Geo. Tyrell, president; A. A. House, secretary; L. C. Leeds, treasurer; Mrs. F. Knopf of Eagle Rock, M. W. Ludden of Tropico, Mr. Van Luren of Burbank, and Rev. Theodore Hopping of La Crescenta, vice-presidents; Mrs. Hoskyn, superintendent of teachers' training. An address on "The Efficient Sunday School" was delivered by Rev. Carl Williams of Los Angeles, field secretary of the Baptist church. Mrs. J. D. Cole of the Central Christian church sang "Will I Empty Handed Be" and the convention then adjourned to the various rooms of the churches where the divisional conferences were held. The elementary division was led by Miss Rose Scott, state superintendent of elementary division of the Southern California Sunday School association; the secretary's division was con-

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY

A beautiful day was spent by a large number of guests at Mrs. Gilmore Walker's spacious residence, 1542 Burchett street, Glendale, on Tuesday afternoon, February 6, 1917. The occasion called for cards and the suspicion of the guests was not aroused until the three prizes were presented to the winners, when Mrs. H. J. Cornelius opened the first prize, a beautiful bonbon dish, and there nestled a hand-painted American Beauty rose card announcing the engagement of Miss Theresa Josephine Miller, daughter of the charming hostess, to Earl Shanemeyer, prominent young business and clubman of Peoria, Ill. This takes from our midst one of Glendale's fairest talented daughters, who is loved by all who know her. The house was a bower of American Beauty roses, roses everywhere; even the score cards were hidden in roses and used as favors. After wishing the bride-to-be happiness and good fortune, the hostess served dainty refreshments.

Invitations were issued to the following ladies: Mesdames A. E. Cull, E. M. Hitchcock, Herman Cornelius, J. E. Thompson, Marshal Ruffell, Alice Butterly, James A. Gregory, Wm. Hunter, Cornell, Harry Howe, Helen Sutter, Agnes Dore, Blackman, C. V. Arrington and McDaniel, all of Glendale; Mrs. E. J. Miles and Mrs. Wm. Cutler of Casa Verdugo; Mrs. Benjamin Meyers of Los Angeles; Mesdames Fred Thomas, Wilson, David Miller, Charlotte Laver, Maurice DeArman, Herbert Hughes, and Mamie Havard, and the Misses Effie Miller and Edna Wilson, all of San Diego; Mesdames R. G. Putnam, Earl Clinch, Crane, J. Smith, Rollin Kern, Maurice Finn, Mary Thode, A. G. Stoner, Geo. Squire, E. D. Roberts, Sprague, H. L. Snyder, G. A. Fielding, A. B. Hromadka, Clyde Yeager, A. E. Diebold and Bowers, and Miss Myrtle Thode, all of Sawtelle.

TO KEEP ALIVE MARTIAL SPIRIT

ADMINISTRATION WISHES TO GUARD AGAINST INFLUENCE OF UNDUE SENSE OF SECURITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The administration fearing that war or a state or war is certain in our relations with Germany is anxious to keep alive the martial spirit in America and wishes to guard against the influence of an undue sense of security. On the other hand, there is no manifest move to raise an army for actual war, although there is some progress in naval and economic preparedness. This epitomizes the administration's position at the close of a week of broken relations. In so far as actual war is concerned officials say that will rest on Germany's responsibility entirely.

MRS. RICHARDSON ENTERTAINS FOR MR. AND MRS. JOHN SMALLEY

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Newton Smalley (nee Miss Emily Ellias), the newly wed, at her home, 805 Central avenue, Friday evening, February 3. The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated with pink roses, daphne and ferns, and hearts and cupids suggested the Valentine season as well as the recent conquest of the hearts of the newly wedded pair by the little god of love. Two glowing fires in the large fireplace added a bright glow to the surroundings. Games and music helped to make the evening a merry and a happy one. Rev. Henry contributed to the pleasure of the guests with two vocal solos. Those invited were tried and true friends and included Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Holman, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Killgore, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McQuiston, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hellyer, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. Morris O. Pulliam, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Norton C. J. H. Henry, and the hostess.

P. I. C. GIRLS MEET

The girls of the P. I. C. of the Presbyterian church held a pleasant meeting at the home of Miss Marie Maier, North Adams street, on Friday afternoon. The girls had not held a meeting for some weeks and this gathering was held chiefly in honor of Miss Mona Butler, Miss Ruth Foster and Miss Irma Wills. A short business meeting was held first, after which each girl was given a number and told to search for the little red heart bearing the number. Under tables and rugs and in each nook and corner they searched until they found their favors, and the three guests of honor were the last to find their numbers. Miss Irma Wills found at the end of her search a pretty Chinese teapot, Miss Mona Butler a blue china cup and saucer, and Miss Ruth Foster a pretty glass dish. The time was spent merrily in games, and orange ice and cake were the dainty refreshments served. Those present included Miss Bessie Field, the teacher of the class, and the Misses Bernice Haun, Annabel McClellan, Helen Begg, Ruth Gray, Pearle Louise Butterfield, Erma Woolbridge, Mona Butler, Ruth Foster, Irma Wills and Marie Maier.

VALENTINE PARTY

A delightful valentine party was given in the parlors of the West Glendale church on Friday night, when the B. B. B. class of girls entertained the boys' class of the church. The parlors were decorated in valentine colors, with streamers of red and white crepe paper running from the center of the room to all corners, the lights being covered with Jap lanterns and cupids and hearts being very effectively used. A number of jolly games were played, Miss Irene Jones winning the prize in the heart game and in the guessing contest. The losing side in the heart-throwing contest paid their penalty with a very clever stunt, in the nature of a chafade. A valentine box was a popular feature of the evening's entertainment, every one receiving a number of valentines. The refreshments served were delicious and greatly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Flora Pixley is the teacher of the B. B. B.'s and Rev. Norcross is the teacher of the boys' class. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norcross, Mrs. Flora Pixley, Misses Helen Bott, Tessa Bott, Alda Gervais, Helen Gould, Marjorie Singleton, Irene Gervais, Eva Gould, Ruth Spafford, Mabel Robbins, Harriett Purcell, Irene Jones and Lillian Whitehead; Raymond Cleland, Ellis Thomas, Merle Davis, George Hart, Clarence Clamm, Dean Schartner, Guy Pixley, Frances Hooper and Frank Budway.

Thousands of packages of California figs and raisins, nuts and prunes, persimmons, pomegranates, olives and oranges were sent east by California people last Christmas, says the California Cultivator. A Pomona canner attracted considerable attention by making up Christmas boxes containing glasses of lemon and orange marmalade, jellies and candied lemon and orange peel. He found a good demand for these boxes.

DINNER PARTY

HAPPY ASSOCIATIONS RENEWED AT PLEASANT AFFAIR AT HOTEL GRAY

Miss Ida M. Waite was hostess to a number of friends at a charming dinner party at the Hotel Gray Friday evening. A beautiful basket of artistically arranged daffodils and fern adorned the center of the table and each course of the deliciously cooked dinner was done full justice to by all. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Richardson, Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, Mrs. Corey of Hollywood, Mrs. Hayes of Plattsburgh, N. Y., Mrs. Whitman of Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Rawson Brainard of St. Albans, Vt., Miss Ida Corey of Hollywood, Miss Florence R. Keene and Miss Ida M. Waite. Miss Waite spent a month last year in the Adirondacks and visited for a time at Plattsburgh on Lake Champlain, among other places. Out of this visit grew her friendship with Miss Ida Corey, who is the kindergarten teacher in the Colorado school, of which Miss Waite is principal, and Miss Corey's mother, whose former home was in Plattsburgh. Mrs. Hayes, who is a sister of Mrs. Corey, is spending the winter in Hollywood. Mrs. Whitman is spending the winter at the Hotel Hollywood. Mrs. Hutchinson was formerly a resident of Clintonville, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Brainard are spending the winter at the Hotel Gray and St. Albans, their home, is a short distance from Plattsburgh, and Miss Waite planned this gathering to bring together this group of friends who have so many associations in common. It was found that all the guests, whose present or former homes are in the East, had many mutual friends and family connections and the time was delightfully spent in discussing old scenes and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, who reside at the Hotel Gray, are old Chicago friends of Miss Waite, that city being Miss Waite's and the Richardson's former home.

JOE FOY COMES TO GLENDALE

The enterprise of Mr. H. C. Jensen, proprietor of the Palace Grand theatre, has been manifested in many ways. Mr. Jensen first showed his progressive spirit when he erected at a cost of more than $30,000 the beautiful building on Brand boulevard, equipped as only the most modern theatres are equipped and containing all facilities necessary in a building of its kind. He gave to Glendale a playhouse that for size, up-to-date ness and beauty of architecture and decoration is seldom found in a city of this size. This same spirit of enterprise has continued to manifest itself in the method of conducting the theatre, Robert Jensen, the manager, being ever alert to give the patrons the greatest possible service. The recent securing of Joe Foy, known as one of the best motion picture operators on the coast, is only another evidence of the desire to make the Glendale theatre one of the best. Mr. Foy was one of the first to project moving pictures in Glendale and is a veteran in his profession. For the past two years he has been employed by Mr. Jensen in his Los Angeles Theatorium. The efforts of Mr. Foy combined with the first class electrical equipment of the Palace Grand will insure the patrons of the theatre a high quality of motion picture projection.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HEADQUARTERS SECURED

Phones will be installed and the room fitted out to care for all needs.

THEATRE PARTY

Mrs. Carroll Hare of 508 S. Louise street entertained a party of young ladies at a matinee at the Orpheum Friday afternoon, after which they enjoyed a dainty lunch at the Pig 'n Whistle. Those enjoying the afternoon were the hostess, Mrs. Hare, and the Misses Leta Sipple and Myrtle Tummel of Glendale and the Misses Dorothy Parsons and Ethel Owen of Los Angeles.

BUILD UPON YOUR OWN FOUNDATION

The man who succeeds best in life is the one who builds upon his own foundation. The man who engages in business and adheres strictly to building up his own business by the use of honest methods and does not in any way interfere with the progress of others who are engaged in the same line of business may be said to be building on his own foundation. He makes a practice of giving the merits of the goods he has for sale and has nothing ill to say about the merchandise his competitor sells. He proceeds strictly along constructive lines that pertain to his own business.

The newspaper that minds its own business and has nothing to say destructive about its competitors is building upon its own foundation. The minister and the teacher who speak the truth and recommend their creed and principles of belief are building upon their own foundation. There is a great opportunity in this world for constructive work. The man who attempts to build up himself by tearing down others is not building upon his own foundation.

FLOOD CONTROL IMPORTANT TO CITRUS GROWERS

The following statement on the flood bond situation has been made by G. Harold Powell, president of the California Citrus Fruit Exchange:

It is an unfortunate fact that the great floods of Southern California, which comes on an average of every two years, occur at just the time when the Washington navel and other winter oranges are being packed and shipped to market. The tie-up of all railroads leading out of Southern California for the east, sometimes lasts for ten days or two weeks. All fruit in the packing houses at that time must wait, which means considerable deterioration for this is highly perishable fruit. It means that all cars on track in California must wait until roadbeds are again in condition. This causes a serious derangement of marketing plans at a time when the market is generally in a most receptive condition. Following the tie-up there is a danger of too much fruit being rushed into market by all citrus shipping concerns.

Floods of the gravity of 1914 and even that of 1916, do not have to occur often to cost the citrus industry alone through lost opportunities in marketing, a sum approaching the whole amount of the bond issue. I am not dwelling on the frightful loss to the rancher because of the washing away of his acreage, although I am painfully familiar with the amount of these losses. But I know that the complete loss of a part of the ranchers' holdings means the impoverishment of the remainder, for in the majority of cases a rancher who has suffered badly from storm damage finds himself crippled for funds with which to keep his ranch up to the proper producing efficiency.

I believe with all my strength that I would be remiss in my obligations to the citrus growers of this country, if I did not make as strong an expression as lies within my power in favor of the proposed flood control bond issue. I believe it to be an adequate beginning which will mean, through steady maintenance and improvement, the solution of the dangerous flood conditions of this Pacific coastal plain.

ORGANIZE 100,000 BIBLE STUDENTS FOR BILLY SUNDAY

(By George Martin, United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—A committee of churchmen under Herbert L. Hill completed all preparations today to start out tomorrow and collect, organize and develop an army of 100,000 Bible students in New York for the Billy Sunday campaign which opens in the big Broadway tabernacle April 1.

"We'll have those hundred thousand men waiting at the tabernacle doors when they swing open April 1, too," said Rev. George G. Dowey. "These classes aren't for the purpose of letting faddists blow off hot air. Men won't sit in a draught like that Sunday after Sunday. They want real, definite Bible study. By March we've got to have them trained and educated so they'll have the whole city on the go."

"Tomorrow there will be a big inspirational meeting of the hundreds of men we have selected to do this class organization.

"Another big movement that's on foot now is the organization of the business women of the city, hundreds of thousands of them. Stenographers, telephone operators, managers, parlor and nurse maids, all women who are working for a living, including scrubwomen.

"These are being organized by 300 of the finest women in this town. Among those who have taken the pledge to take off their hats and get down and dig are such women as Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Mrs. L. W. Stotesbury, Mrs. E. R. L. Gould, Mrs. A. F. Schuffler and others.

"They will organize factories, laundries, homes, shops and hospitals. They will have lieutenants in every building in the city.

They also will organize the Billy Sunday lunch rooms, wherein three times a week New York will get something besides beer, bare legs and blatant music with its meals. I mean it will have a little religion served with the steak. At these places for ten cents a dinner and a talk by Sunday or one of his aides can be obtained.

"We'll have this old town on fire right in a few weeks. Watch us."

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt Le Noir Church

STUDY XXII: YOUR ORIGINAL INCOME.

What is it? Just 24 hours a day. Neither Croesus, nor King Solomon had any more or less; nor did Hetty Green or even John D. Rockefeller, John Smith, Tommy Atkins, and Rasputin Napoleon Bonaparte Jones, each has exactly the same.

The great difference in worldly possessions was caused by the way each one used that common income. Part of those mentioned had the thrift to save and the judgment to invest that income. Part did not. No one needs to be told which is which. Yet not any one might be willing to exchange results with any other. Matter of taste.

But that income, the original unearned increment, continues right along, whether you deserve it or wish it, or not. What is more, you can't donate it, lend it, bequeath it, or do anything else with it except just spend it. Your only choice in the matter is how you spend it from day to day, hour to hour, minute to minute, second to second.

You cannot hoard it, or lock it up in a safe or safety vault, or hide it in a buried box, or up a hollow tree, or under the floor, or in a cave, or behind a loosened rock in the cellar wall, or in an old teapot up on the back shelf of a dark closet, or in an old stocking under the mattress, or up in the garret down under the rafters, or in a belt which you personally wear day and night for fear of thieves. No, indeed; man or woman, boy or girl, infant or octogenarian, you can't do a blessed thing with that wonderful income, but just spend it; then keep on spending it; then keep on keeping on.

If the income could sing, it might adopt as its slogan song that of The Brook, and sing without ceasing: "For men may come, and men may go;

I go on forever; ever; ever; I go on for ever."

With this difference, however: that priceless, inalienable income of yours will keep coming in to you right along for unnumberable ages after it has sung the brook to a whisper, then to a vapor, then to a memory, and into the oblivion of things that were and are not.

That income of yours certainly is a wonder. 24 hours a day.

One mighty good thing about it is the demonstrated fact that the way in which you spend it now—this week, month or year, will have lot to do with how you can spend it later. I say "demonstrated"—a strong word, but the right word in the right place. Solomon, Plato, Aristotle, JESUS CHRIST, His great Apostles Peter and Paul, all testified to that fact. In later years, so did Napoleon, LaFayette, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. But, even if that were not demonstration, YOU know it yourself; of your own knowledge, without any outside evidence. Honestly now, don't you?

Then what are you doing with that income now as a citizen of Glendale? Is not your home city entitled to some of what you spend over and above the usual necessities, incendiaries and luxuries?

W. J. Clendenin has broken ground for his new residence at 232 South Orange street, Glendale. He is building this house for his own occupancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Evans and little daughter, Charlotte, of 323 South Orange street were dinner guests Friday evening of Mrs. D. L. Adams of Huntington Park.

Come to the Variety Show at the Glendale High School and have a big laugh. There will be plenty of good acts and lots of peanuts and candy. Buy tickets of any student or at Cornwell & Kelty's.

Bert Anderson, well-known contractor of this city, intends starting work next week on a fine bungalow court which he will erect in Hollywood. Mr. Anderson will also make his home in Hollywood.

Elmer Starr of Glendale, who is employed as engraver on the Los Angeles Record, and Miss Helen C. Erskine of Tropico, daughter of D. S. Erskine, were married Thursday in San Bernardino. They succeeded in keeping the secret from their friends, who have just discovered it and are now extending good wishes and congratulations.

The Sparr Fruit Company has shipped out 11 cars of citrus fruit from Glendale so far this season, including six cars of oranges and five of lemons. Little or nothing was done at the packing house during January. The Rossmoyne packing house has not begun this season's shipments as yet, but expects to send out its first cars about the first of March.

STARTS HAIRDRESSING AND MANICURE PARLORS

Miss Elsie Martin, late of Los Angeles, has rented the store room at 706½ W. Broadway, opposite the Sanitarium, where she has started a hairdressing and manicure shop. Special attention will be given to facial massages, shampoos, scalp treatments, as well as all kinds of hair work and manuring. In addition Miss Martin will accept a limited amount of millinery special order work and orders for embroidery and fancy work. As there is no beauty shop east of Brand boulevard, Miss Martin should enjoy a good patronage. In order to introduce the excellence of her work, a special introductory offer will be made to all patrons calling at Miss Martin's shop for a limited time.

ECHO OF THE FARMERS' SPECIAL

C. M. Glover of Newton, Kansas, was a member of the Santa Fe Farmers' Special to California in November. In a letter to the Newton Daily Kansan Mr. Glover said:

"Fifteen states were represented in this party, and it is needless to say that a large majority of those composing it have expressed themselves as being favorably enough impressed to make California their future homes. A number purchased while on the trip.

"The development of California is wonderful and visitors can easily understand the keen desire of the farmers of the Central West to go to sections which apparently flow with milk and honey. Kansas people were found in every town in which the Santa Fe Farmers' Special stopped."

The work on the new Kalém studio buildings are well under way. The main building is raised and contractor Smith is pushing the work rapidly and expects to have the main building completed within two weeks. The foundations for the several auxiliary buildings are being put in and work on these will begin as soon as the main building is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sherwood of 1320 North Maryland avenue and her sister, Miss Frances Parker, entertained eastern friends on Friday afternoon, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phelps of Waukesha, Wis., who are spending the winter at the Hollywood hotel, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foote of Illinois, who are wintering in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barnett and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hosford, of New York City, who have been sojourning at the home of Mr. Barnett's twin brother, E. Z. Barnett, 502 West Ninth street, have gone to Long Beach to spend a few weeks prior to their return to the frozen east. They expect to return home next month, but are delighted with California and it is probable will return in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Underwood and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Evans of Fergus Falls, Minnesota, and Mrs. E. Curry of Los Angeles were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Salo Desky, 139 S. Kenwood street, Glendale, Friday. Mr. Underwood is the editor of the Fergus Falls Journal and Mr. Evans is cashier of the Fergus Falls National Bank. Mrs. Curry was formerly a resident of Fergus Falls, as were also Mr. and Mrs. Desky.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Barnett of 502 West Ninth street very pleasantly entertained a few friends at dinner on Tuesday evening, their guests being J. E. Hopkins of Tropico, Mr. and Mrs. Major Allured and W. H. Allured of Los Angeles and Mrs. Barnett's mother, Mrs. Ellen Johnson. The house was very attractively decorated in the beautiful, fragrant acacia blossoms. After dinner a very pleasant evening was spent in the discussion of various interesting topics.

(Continued from Page One) duced by H. H. Goebel and Mrs. A. F. Good; Rev. Geo. C. Butterfield, field secretary of the Presbyterian church, was the leader of the adults' division. At the close of these conferences a symposium was held with Rev. C. A. Norcross presiding. A duet, "Listening Angels," was sung by Mrs. Helen Grant and Mildred White; Mrs. O. P. Rider of the First Presbyterian, Tropico, spoke on missionary work in the Sunday School; C. E. Hutton of the Central Christian church spoke on the auto race contest in the Sunday school; Rev. Theo. Hopping of La Crescenta Presbyterian church, spoke on "Our Record"; Rev. C. A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church, spoke on "My Sunday School Class Between Sundays"; "Boy Scouts" was the topic for J. Goodsell of the Tropico M. E. church; H. A. Rudin, pastor of the Burbank Presbyterian church, spoke on "Sunday School Superintendents," and L. C. Leeds of the First M. E. church spoke on "Holding the Boys and Girls." Other musical selections were a duet, "Forever with the Lord," by Mr. Asa and Miss Helen Bott, and a piano solo by Richard Berry. Rev. Don Ford, pastor of the Tropico M. E. church, closed the afternoon session with prayer and all adjourned to the First Methodist church for supper, which was served by the Ladies' Aid Society of that church. Chas. B. Guthrie acted as toastmaster and one-minute toasts were given by the superintendents of the Sunday schools represented on "The Biggest Problem in Our School the Past Year and How We Solved It." Rev. W. E. Edmonds presided at the evening meeting, which began with a song service led by C. H. Cunningham. The devotional was given by Rev. T. P. Creswell, pastor of the Eagle Rock Presbyterian church, and the choir of St. Mark's Episcopal church of Glendale sang. A solo, "Sound the Depths," was given by E. J. Ruenitz, and an address was made by James Edmonds, second vice-president of the Los Angeles County Sunday School association.

Only about one-half as much alfalfa seed and less than one-half as much crimson clover seed were imported during the fiscal year 1915-16 as during either of the two previous years. Less than 70,000 pounds of hairy vetch seed were imported in 1916, whereas 2,500,000 pounds were imported in 1914.

"SAFETY FIRST" RULES SAVE DEER

Deer that wander along the right of way of the Southern Pacific can now feel secure in the full protection of the company's safety first rules. For Superintendent J. D. Brennan of the Sacramento division has told his enginemen to be careful not to run over them. They get dazed in the glare of the headlight at night and many times are injured. The enginemen will momentarily dim their lights to let the frightened animals regain their presence of mind and jump to safety. Brennan has taken this action at the request of President F. M. Newbert of the California Fish and Game Commission. He adds in his instructions as a caution that engineers will not do this should they be approaching a public road crossing or wherever it might endanger the safety of train operation.

In his letter Newbert explains that "in the fall and winter of the year large numbers of deer in migrating to the lower altitudes from the snow belt are in the habit of using the railroad tracks, no doubt owing to the absence of brush and snow. Many of these deer become dazed at night by the headlights of the locomotives and are either killed or so severely wounded that they have to be put out of misery."

If a deer can escape the piercing headlight of the locomotive for a moment it will jump into the dark for safety.

CHRISTIAN MISSION

To-morrow evening will see the beginning of a two weeks' special mission at the First Methodist church. The pastor will be in charge of the services and will be assisted by Mr. C. Norman Guice as musical leader and soloist. Mr. Guice is well known as a Christian worker and tenor singer. He is one of the South's courtly, Christian gentlemen.

The messages to be presented by the pastor will center around the subject, "The Finality of Christ." Believing that the religious confusion of the day results from the philosophies of men, Mr. Snudden will endeavor to show that there is an authoritative religious message. Mr. Snudden believes that terms and phraseology of this or any other age cannot affect the truth. The motto for these services will be "A sane religion sanely presented." The meetings will be free from clap-trap and abuse. Life and God are subjects worthy of earnest consideration.

There will be a "punch" in these services but it will be that of earnestness and truth.

There will be a great rally at the church to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock. The week-night services will commence at 7:30 and will be held each evening except Saturday.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

The evening church hour will mark the beginning of the revival mission. In these services the pastor will preach, while the music will be under the leadership of C. Norman Guice, evangelist and singer.

Subject for the evening sermon, "Divine Impossibilities the Hope of Man." There will be an excellent musical program.

Why not have a model Chamber of Commerce in the Glendale Union High School, and see if doing some continuous, practical good things for their respective cities will not develop more patriotism, expressing itself in good citizenship in the pupils, making them better informed and better qualified as good citizens when they go out of the school into the practical affairs of civic life. Is not that worth consideration?

DEBATE

Pasadena High vs. Glendale Union High

Question: "Admitting the possibility of actual purchase;

Resolved: That Government Ownership of all interstate railroads would be in the interest of the general welfare of the people of the United States. Constitutionality waived."

Pasadena, represented by Carlos Alviar (a native of the Philippines), first affirmative, and Howard Weintraub, second affirmative. Glendale represented by Herbert Scheuner, first negative, and Samuel Durand, second negative.

The timekeepers were Miss Elizabeth Lowstetter, Pasadena, and Mr. Thomas White, Glendale.

Judges: Miss Everest of Hollywood High; M. M. Livingston, Principal Burbank High, and A. J. Cranmore, Supt. Schools, Santa Ana.

Mr. Paul J. Batkin, Instructor of Public Speaking, Argument and Debate, Pasadena High, with numerous other Pasadena boosters, was present.

The debate was ably conducted by each side, but the decision of the judges was 2 to 1 in favor of the affirmative; so Pasadena autoed off with the honors. It is but fair to say that the negatives did exceedingly well, considering they really believe in the affirmative of that much discussed, most important question.

The debate was presided over by Mr. Harold Venske with satisfaction to all. Mr. Darwin W. Root, Instructor of Public Speaking, Glendale High, was absent with another Glendale debating team, Berna Martin and Harlan Durand, who contended for the affirmative at Lincoln High School, where in a very interesting debate Lincoln won two judges and Glendale one.

Standing in the Variety Show ticket-selling contest this morning was as follows: Irving Westwood, first; Edward Kent, second; Mary Elizabeth Stellar, third; Jeanette McClellan, fourth. Fifth place rests between Carrie Stone, Harold Venske and Milton Kranz. The selling is lively and competition is fierce.

ophy, Chas. W. Hoag. Finding the Christ Within, Vivian Lehman Menages. The Greatest Thing in the World, Theodora Borglum St. John.

Evening Session, 8 o'clock. Adeline Becker, Chairman. The Greatest Blessing, Adeline Becker. The Radiant Life, Edward S. Jerome. The Kingdom of Heaven, Dr. Frank L. Riley.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Another day of attractive and uplifting services will be held at the 11:00 a. m. service. Rev. Miles B. Fisher, one of the Pacific coast secretaries of the Congregational church, will speak.

Mr. Fisher is a man with a specially strong and suggestive message.

At 7:30 p. m. Dr. Williford will give the message on "Jesus the Shepherd."

Miss Dorothy Bonnell will sing and play. Dorothy is well and favorably known in Glendale. She has quite fully recovered from her serious automobile accident of last year.

9:45 a. m. The Sunday School assemblies. Classes for all.

6:15 p. m. Junior Intermediate. The pastor will be in charge.

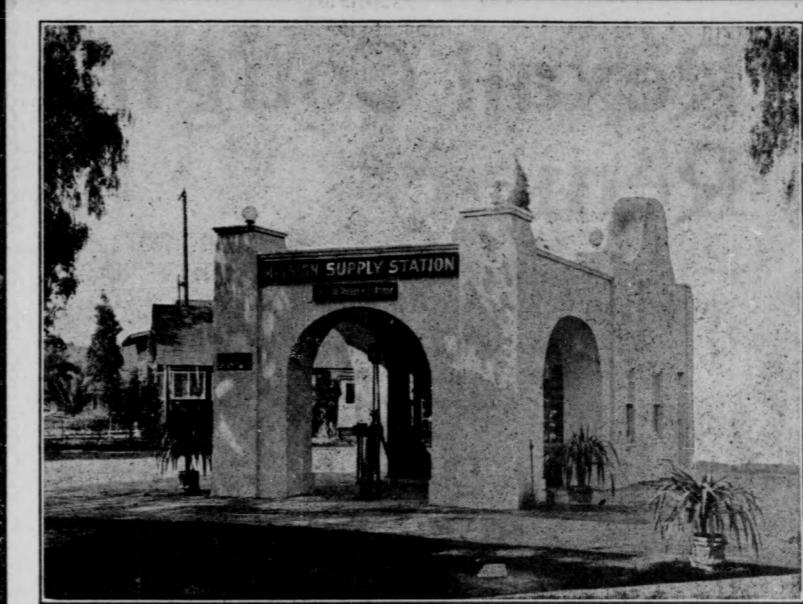

6:30 p. m. Intermediate C. E. Church located on Central at Third.

THE HOME-LIKE CHURCH

Elder Cole's morning subject is "Financial Righteousness." In the evening the subject is "The Bible—Try It."

These are both very timely subjects. People are too prone, in these days of swollen fortunes, to think too little of what they owe the Lord. Come out and hear Bro. Cole's exposition of his views, taken from the Word of God, on this great question.

There are many religious fads at this time, all of them departing far from the old book. Self-appointed

There is an awful curse pronounced against such adding to and taking away from the words of the law and people think of this too lightly. WEST GLENDALE METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday promises to be a very profitable day for all who attend the services of this church. At the morning service the pastor will speak on the subject, "The Book of Blood, the Christian's Book." This will be the fitting close of the series of special morning sermons from the first chapter of First Peter. At the evening hour we will be introduced to another experience of Peter, when he goes into "The Enemy's Territory." The Epworth League and Sunday School at the regular hours will prove helpful in inspiration and Bible study. All are welcome. An old-fashioned hand shake awaits you.</
